DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

Claims 1-9 of this application conflict with claims 1-9 of Application No. 09/721708. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application. Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822.

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-9 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-9 of copending Application No. 09/721708. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 2882

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Tomohiko et al. (Japan 11-007897).

Tomohiko et al. discloses a plasma display panel including a sustaining electrode pair of a transparent conductive material provided on a upper substrate (figure 1, 4), and a display region coexisting with a non-display region (figure 1b, 1 and 2), wherein a distance between the sustaining electrode pair at the display region has each longitudinal rounded in such a manner that a length of the opposed side thereof becomes distant (figure 12b).

Art Unit: 2882

Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kosaka et al. (US Patent 6,048,243).

Re claims 3 and 4: Kosaka et al. discloses a plasma display panel including a sustaining electrode pair (figure 1, X and Y) of a transparent conductive material provided on an upper substrate (figure 1, 41), barrier ribs formed on a lower substrate in a direction crossing the sustaining electrode pair (figure 1, 29), and a display region coexisting with a non-display region (figure 4A, E1), wherein a width of the barrier rib at the display region has a larger width than that at the non-display region (figure 4, 610, W and W2).

Re claim 5: Kosaka et al. discloses the barrier rib at the non-display region being set to have a large width than each end of the sustaining electrode pair overlapping with itself (column 6, lines 3+; especially lines 19+).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- US 5,982,082: discloses the use of black matrices to define pixels within a plasma display panel.
- US 6,055,030: discloses the use of black matrices for shutting off light within the non-display region of a liquid crystal display device.
